

Why do surgical suites have delays in PACU admission?

Delays in PACU admission are often caused by delay in discharge. However, the most effective solution is often not to focus on the root cause. Instead, make small adjustments to PACU nursing to match the arrival of patients. For additional information click here and download this file.

Return to Frequently Asked Questions