Bibliographical sketch

During the past 32 years, Franklin Dexter, MD PhD FASA, and his colleagues have developed and improved upon the science of anesthesia group and operating room management. Dr. Dexter completed a Sc.B. in Applied Mathematics & Biology with Honors from Brown University; Master's Degree & Ph.D. in Biomedical Engineering, with specialization in biomathematics, from Case Western Reserve University; M.D. degree from Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine; and Anesthesiology residency at the University of Iowa. He is the Samir D. Gergis Professor in the Department of Anesthesia at the University of Iowa. He taught a four-day intensive course in operating room management 72 times. He has given over 200 invited presentations in the United States and abroad. In multiple editorial positions, he has reviewed more than 8825 papers and grant applications, for 128 journals over the past 5 years. As Director of the Division of Management Consulting in the Department of Anesthesia, he has performed more than 1045 consultations for more than 250 corporations. He has published more than 790 papers in the fields of operating room management and anesthesia, 442 with at least 10 citations (i10-index) and 85 with at least 85 citations (h-index). Details of his background, expertise, contact information, as well as the comprehensive bibliography of scientific papers in OR management, are at FranklinDexter.net

Return to Frequently Asked Questions