

What papers do you recommend about scheduling anesthesia for non-operating room locations such as diagnostic imaging?

Progressively over the past several years, a progressively greater percentage of anesthesia cases have been performed in nonoperating room locations. Click on each of the following links to get the reference and abstract for each paper about scheduling these cases; click on [PDF] to download the full article.

Predicting anesthesia times for diagnostic and interventional radiological procedures [PDF]

Staffing and case scheduling for anesthesia in geographically dispersed locations outside of operating rooms

Coordination of appointments for anesthesia care outside of operating rooms using an enterprise-wide scheduling system [PDF]

A simple method for deciding when patients should be ready on the day of surgery without procedure-specific data [PDF]

Case sequencing of diagnostic imaging studies performed under general anesthesia or monitored anesthesia care during nights and weekends [PDF]

Return to Frequently Asked Questions